

Sample Lesson #1

- L.5.2d 1. Insert the correct punctuation for the title of a short poem.

Sean and I will be reciting Shel Silverstein's Hug O' War for the talent show.

- L.5.1b 2. Complete the sentence by adding the future perfect form of the verb fly.

By the end of the year, Evan _____ 100,000 miles.

- L.6.5a 3. Underline a metaphor. What is being compared?..

Within Tim's bedroom, a fierce pillow fight had erupted, creating a blinding blizzard of down feathers.

- L.6.2b 4. Rewrite these words with the suffixes.

settle + ment → _____ settle + ing → _____

- L.6.1 5. Choose the adjective or adverb to correctly complete the sentence.

Fred was driving very (wild / wildly).

- L.6.1 6. A demonstrative, like any pronoun, should have a clear antecedent and must agree with its antecedent and the verb in the sentence.

Read the sentence. Underline the antecedent; then, choose the demonstrative pronoun and verb that agree with it.

First of all, there are some complaints, and (this is / these are) outlined in my letter.

L.6.3

7. Write an improved sentence; add adjectives, a conjunction, and details.

I like video games.

L.6.4a

8. Use the context clues to determine the meaning of destitute.

The family was destitute. Neither parent had found a job; the pantry was empty, and there was no money for groceries.

- A) religious
- B) careful
- C) poor
- D) solvent

L.6.1a

9. Which pronoun is correct, I or me? The pronoun I is a subject pronoun; the pronoun me is an object pronoun.

Choose the correct pronoun for this sentence.

Come and play football with Baldwin and (I / me).

L.6.5b

10. Cause: The migration of monarch butterflies had begun.

Effect: Soon the butterflies would be miles away from where they had begun.

From the cause/effect relationship, you can tell a migration is a _____.

- A) journey
- B) caterpillar
- C) feast
- D) legislation

